1. Choice elements of the Nationalist 80 and 67 Armies, totaling over 50,000 men, have already begun to move to the ports Keelung and Kaohsiung. This movement began before 30 June. Large numbers of these troops have already embarked and are standing off shore above the ports awaiting sailing orders. Most of the troops moved to ports of embarkation unarmed and without insignia, but they are obviously well-trained soldiers.
2. Two companies of experienced armored brigade personnel are awaiting orders to embark. These units are also unequipped and for the most part unarmed. They expect to proceed first to Okinawa to obtain US equipment.
3. Although Nationalist officials know that the US may refuse Nationalist aid to Korea, most officers are still confident that Nationalist offers will be accepted.
